IV. PEN-KNU Korea(1)

PEN-Korea is founded in 2009.
This institution establishes a network for the higher education of the deaf in Korea. Main role of KEPAD and KNU in forming PEN-Korea for higher education of hearing-impaired students

The background of the formation of the network

The systemic network between the educational institutions for the deaf in order to provide the better opportunities in building their careers and adopting the work environments.

- The systematic alliance to establish an ideal special-education model for the deaf.
- After the compulsory education, support the deaf students to continue their studies at the higher educational institutions.
- The necessities of improvement for the high-cost education through operating network.
- Improve the efficiency by sharing the knowledge, experience and resource
- The systematic establishment and alliance to improve the faculties’ specialties.
- The necessities of the collaborate research and accessibility of the resources to improve the quality of the special education for the deaf.
IV. PEN-KNU Korea (2)

PEN-Korea Network status

◆ Offer the educator training program and workshop for a faculty development.
In Korea, there are nineteen special schools for the deaf students.
The status of the Deaf Schools in Korea

- Most of the deaf students are taught Total Communication (TC)
  - The pre-school, kindergarten and elementary schools are instructed using lip reading.
  - The middle and high schools are instructed with sign language.

- Most students from the two schools have gotten a cochlear implant.

- It is common for most of them to transfer to regular schools during kindergarten or elementary school.

- The deaf students transfer back to a special school for the deaf around their middle or high school years because they fail to adopt to the environment of the regular schools.
