

Masahiko Suto has a Master of Education degree, and has worked for the National Institute for Special Education for 6 years. He was also a Visiting Researcher at the Central Institute for the Deaf in St.Louis, Missouri, U.S.A., from 1984 to 1985.