Welcome to our visitors from the Korean National College of Rehabilitation and Welfare!

Steve Nelson, Director, Access Services
Rochester Institute of Technology
National Technical Institute for the Deaf
February 3, 2010
Who we are?

Real-time Captioning
Interpreting
Note taking

51 staff C-Print™ (47 FTE)
132 staff (116 FTE)
~400 student notetakers
What we did last year?

Academic Year 2008 - 2009

Real-time Captioning: 18,168 hours/year
Interpreting: 109,618 hours/year
Note taking: 63,291 hours/year

2,381 course sections, nearing 25% of all RIT offerings
Interpreting splits: about 75% courses, 20% student co-curricular, 5% administrative use
Practices Developed

- Student Note takers - good students, trained, detailed outlines of content delivered via www.

- Skilled interpreters - career ladder, specializations, preparation time, mentoring, professional development

- Real-time captioning (CART, C-Print), laptops, transcripts as .doc

- WWW-based data system  myAccess.rit.edu
Coming?

- Remote service delivery
- Increased services, diversity
What’s on your mind?